2023 IMEA Annual Business Meeting Honors & Awards

2023 Frank R. Rudolph Award

Leonard Larson, Interim Manager of Operations with Rensselaer Electric Utility was the recipient of the 2023 IMEA Frank R. Rudolph Award!

The Frank R. Rudolph Award is the association's most prestigious honor. Named after Francis R. Rudolph, Greendale, Indiana Utility Manager for nearly 40 years. The award is given to individuals who make significant contributions to Public Power in Indiana.

It is the highest award granted by the association and recognizes the recipient's exceptional leadership in and dedication to public power.

In celebrating Leonard receiving the Frank R. Rudolph Award, we recognize the valuable contributions he's made to Indiana Municipal Electric Association, the City of Rensselaer & Rensselaer Electric Utility. His passion for assisting IMEA and members is what we all strive to accomplish.

As a symbol of our deep appreciation for his many contributions, we thank you many times over for your time and commitment in:

- Assisting other communities in need of mutual aid assistance.
- The multiple hats you wore while serving on the IMEA Board.
- Nurturing innovation and leadership within the utility and community.

IMEA members, colleagues and peers congratulate you on reaching this notable milestone,

The award appropriately reflects the endless hours you have spent advancing Public Power.

On behalf of our team, we wish you unlimited success in the future.

Lenny Larson, Interim
Manager of Operations

Jobs in Public Power

Public power is more to communities than just an essential utility. It is a source of unique and fulfilling career opportunities in your local community. Employees make a difference by serving their own neighborhoods and families. Talented high school, college and technical college graduates—and even technology, environmental and public service professionals—will find that competitive salaries aren't the only thing attractive about careers in public power.
