

Manage Fatigue and Work Deliberately

Trouble calls often come at the end of long shifts or during high-stress events. Fatigue can affect judgment and reaction time. Take a moment to slow down, think through the task, and work methodically - getting the job done safely is always the priority.