

Hydrate Before You Need It

Working in the heat increases the risk of dehydration. Drink water frequently throughout the day, even if you don't feel thirsty. Start hydrating before your shift and continue after work.